

File O + M /

2 APR 1975

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: Updating Regulatory Provisions Relating to the Office of the Director

Sir:

Your approval is requested to publish in Agency regulations the following provisions relating to the Office of the Director to replace the presently outdated regulatory material as reflected in Attachment A. The statement relating to the Director has been revised to include your role as leader of the Intelligence Community and to incorporate the National Security Council Intelligence Directives as a basis for your responsibilities and authorities.

The statement relating to the Deputy Director has been revised to incorporate the delegation of authority from the Director as an integral part of the regulation itself. This will provide for a continuing delegation to the Deputy Director, which will then obviate any question of the need for specific redelegations when the incumbent in either position changes. This treatment is more in keeping with the philosophy as well as the fact that regulations have continuing application unrelated to the identity of the person occupying any particular position:

STAT

[redacted] - Office of the Director

- a. The Director. The Director of Central Intelligence is the President's principal foreign intelligence adviser, leader of the Intelligence Community, and head of the Central Intelligence Agency. He is responsible for executing the responsibilities of the Central Intelligence Agency and those of his position, as they are prescribed by the National Security Act, National Security Council Intelligence Directives, the Central Intelligence Agency Act, other legislation, and by Presidential directives.

b. The Deputy Director. The Deputy Director "shall act for, and exercise the powers of, the Director during his absence or disability" (section 102(a) of the National Security Act). He also acts in compliance with Presidential directives, and is authorized to exercise all authorities vested in the Director of Central Intelligence by law or by virtue of the Director's position as Director of Central Intelligence and head of the Central Intelligence Agency, including, but not limited to, the certification authority set forth in section 8(b) of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, except for any authorities the delegation of which is inconsistent with applicable law.

John F. Blake
Deputy Director
for Administration

Attachment

Attachment A - Copy of existing Office of Director regulatory provision

cc: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

CONCUR:

STAT

3 April 1975
Date

APPROVED:

/S/
_____
Director of Central Intelligence

3 APR 1975

_____
Date

SUBJECT: Updating Regulatory Provisions Relating to the Office of the Director

O/DDA/ISAS:CRP/dr (17 March 1975)

Rewritten: O/DDA/ISAS:CRP/dr (2 April 1975)

Distribution:

Original - Addressee (Return to C/ISAS via DD/A)

1 - DDCI

1 - ER

1 - DD/A Chrono

~~✓~~ - DD/A Subject

1 - OGC

1 - ISAS/RCB

STAT

Approved For Release 2003/06/06 : CIA-RDP84-00780R006300160011-6

Approved For Release 2003/06/06 : CIA-RDP84-00780R006300160011-6

Executive Registry
175-1356

17 MAR 1975

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: Updating Regulatory Provisions Relating to the Office of the Director

Sir:

Your approval is requested to publish in Agency regulations the following provisions relating to the Office of the Director to replace the presently outdated regulatory material as reflected in Attachment A.

STAT

[REDACTED] - Office of the Director

- a. The Director. The Director of Central Intelligence is the President's principal foreign intelligence adviser, leader of the Intelligence Community, and head of the Central Intelligence Agency. He is responsible for executing the responsibilities of the Central Intelligence Agency and those of his position, as they are prescribed by the National Security Act, National Security Council Intelligence Directives, the Central Intelligence Agency Act, other legislation, and by Presidential directives.
- b. The Deputy Director. The Deputy Director "shall act for, and exercise the powers of, the Director during his absence or disability" (section 102(a) of the National Security Act). He also acts in compliance with Presidential directives, and with the Director's Delegation of Authority to the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, as follows:

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY

I hereby delegate to the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence all authorities vested in me by law or by virtue of my position as Director of Central Intelligence and head of the Central Intelligence Agency, including, but not limited to, the certification authority set forth in section 8(b) of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, except for any authorities the delegation of which is inconsistent with applicable law.

All other delegations of authority currently in force remain valid to the extent they are not inconsistent with this delegation.

W. E. Colby
Director of Central Intelligence

STAT

John F. Blake
Deputy Director
for Administration

Attachment

Attachment A Copy of existing Office of Director regulatory provision. ~~with emendation indicated.~~

cc: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

Counsel: General Counsel Date)

APPROVED:

W. E. Colby
Director of Central Intelligence

Date)

Date: _____

SUBJECT: Updating Regulatory Provisions Relating to the Office of the Director

O/DDA-ISAS:CRP/dr (17 March 1975)

Distribution:

Orig - Addressee (Return to C/ISAS via DD/A)
1 - DDCI
1 - ER
1 - DD/A Chrono
1 - DD/A Subject
1 - General Counsel
1 - Client
1 - CAFE

Penniller: O/DDA/ISAS: CRP/dr (2 Apr 75)

Attachment A

ORGANIZATION

STAT

2. OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

- a. THE DIRECTOR. The Director of Central Intelligence is the President's principal foreign intelligence adviser, leader of the Intelligence Community, and head of the Central Intelligence Agency. He is responsible for the discharge of executing the responsibilities of the Central Intelligence Agency and those of his position, as they are prescribed by the National Security Act, National Security Council Intelligence Directives, the Central Intelligence Agency Act, other legislation, the President's letter of September 24, 1965 to the Director of Central Intelligence, and by other Presidential directives. The letter of September 24, 1965 reads as follows:

(Note: Letter from President Johnson, deleted.)

- b. THE DEPUTY DIRECTOR. The Deputy Director "shall act for, and exercise the powers of, the Director during his absence or disability" (section 102(a) of the National Security Act). He also acts in compliance with Presidential directives, and with the Director's Delegation of Authority to the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, dated 1 November 1966, as follows:

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY

I hereby delegate to the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence all authorities vested in me by law or by virtue of my position as Director of Central Intelligence and head of the Central Intelligence Agency, including, but not limited to, the certification authority set forth in section 8(b) of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, except for any authorities the delegation of which is inconsistent with applicable law.

All other delegations of authority currently in force remain valid to the extent they are not inconsistent with this delegation.

W. E. Colby
/s/ RICHARD-HELM
Director of Central Intelligence